Circumstances: Degner and Hayes were last seen on February 10, 2005 at Paxon Middle School in Jacksonville, Florida. Both were both special education students at the school. The boys ran out of the building after an argument with a teacher and disappeared. The boys had informed other friends that they planned to run away. It was later learned that Hayes was seen getting into a car outside the school the day he disappeared. Witnesses were not sure if Mark was with him. There were several sightings of the boys in North Jacksonville in the first 2 weeks after they disappeared. Some reports placed them in Volusia County a month later. Their cases remain unsolved.
